

This is why we do what we do ...Helping our clients sell more homes

“We have used Property Perspective for many years as our independent Part Exchange and Agency Assist Provider. Their in-house valuers provide us with a greater insight into the properties we are considering, and they reaffirm our schemes and brand when they visit each customer at home. The realistic valuations results in quicker sales, which means our customers can reserve their dream home sooner. Their experience in the industry means that they understand our needs and expectations, and they are dedicated to delivering results.”

Lesley Myers, Sales Manager,
Redrow Homes

“Since working with Property Perspective, they have helped to grow our Agency Assist scheme to maximise our sales pipeline. The quick turnaround time on their valuation reports is imperative for keeping our customers motivated. Having a dedicated single point of contact who gets to know our sales team and customers through their journey means we get detailed updates we can trust at each stage. We haven't looked back!”

Holly Bunkell, Sales Manager,
Taylor Wimpey

“Because it is such a client based industry, everything is person to person. Property Perspective really caters to the individual need.

From the initial application from a potential new home purchaser through to the negotiation of the sale to a house hunter keeping our cash flowing.

Our stock levels remain low with great service at all times.”

Stephen Grant, Sales Director,
